

DATUM

July 10, 2026

NINAMEDIA CLIPPING

DAILY REPORT ECONOMIC REVIEW

ninamedia

DAILY REPORT ECONOMY REVIEW

Blic

Key policy rate unchanged

The National Bank of Serbia has decided that the key policy rate will remain at 5.75%, while the deposit facilities and lending facilities rates are also unchanged, at 4.5% and 7.0%, respectively. The NBS Executive Board made this decision taking into account realized and expected inflation, as well as risks from the international environment that may affect future economic flows.

RTS1

Joint border crossing

In the Šabac Cultural Centre, 127 new energy efficiency co-financing contracts were handed out, which brought the number of households that use these subsidies in the Šabac region to around 500. For this year's measures to replace carpentry, facades and boilers, the Šabac City Council and the Ministry of Mining and Energy jointly allocated RSD 25 million.

RTS1

ExpoTech pavilion

The ExpoTech pavilion at the Expo 2027 exhibition in Belgrade will bring together the key actors of the domestic innovation ecosystem in order to present marketable solutions in the fields of artificial intelligence, biotechnology and robotics. On the occasion of the National Science Day, the Ministry of Science and the Fund for Innovation Activity awarded contracts for the financing of 16 regional startup centres, providing key support for the further development and internationalization of domestic innovations.

Politika

IFIMES: Serbia is the leading regional economy

The Ljubljana-based IFIMES highlights Serbia as the leading economy of the Western Balkans thanks to political stability, strategic development, an active policy of attracting foreign investments and intensive infrastructure investments. During the last decade, Serbia achieved significant economic growth, recorded through an increase in salaries, pensions and minimum wages.

RTS1

African swine flu

Due to confirmed infection with African swine fever on a large farm in Hrtkovci, emergency euthanasia of over 11,000 head was organized in accordance with animal welfare regulations and standards. Minister of Agriculture Dragan Glamočić appealed for strict discipline and biosecurity measures on farms, noting that the state fully compensates for the damage and that this virus does not pose a threat to human health.