Dodik's Team a Chance for the 'Original Dayton'

Preliminary results of the general elections in Bosnia and Herzegovina brought convincing victories for SNSD candidates: Savo Minić was elected President of Republika Srpska, Željka Cvijanović the Serb member of the Presidency of Bosnia and Herzegovina, while SNSD won 33 seats in the National Assembly of Republika Srpska. Milorad Dodik announced the continuation of the policy of restoring powers to Republika Srpska and insisting on the 'original Dayton.'

Terrorists Will Be Tried - by Terrorists

The Kosovo Assembly adopted, in the first reading, amendments to the Law on the Specialist Chambers in The Hague proposing a narrowing of the court's jurisdiction, shorter maximum sentences and the possibility of pardons. The session was accompanied by protests by KLA supporters and an increased police presence.

Thousands of Kilometers to the Ballot Box

The Republic Electoral Commission confirmed 93 polling stations abroad for the October 25 parliamentary elections, based on a proposal from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Some REC members and representatives of the Student List criticized the distribution of polling stations and the decision to align voting hours with Serbia, which will require citizens in some distant time zones to vote at night.

The Savior and 12 Apostles Would Like to 'Fix' What They Destroyed

Danas analyzes Aleksandar Vučić's announcement that a possible new government would have only 12 ministers. The newspaper's interlocutors say the proposal has a strong election-campaign and marketing dimension, noting that the number of ministries in previous governments increased over the years.
