

DATUM

September 24, 2026

NINAMEDIA CLIPPING

DAILY REPORT

POLITICAL REVIEW

ninamedia

DAILY REPORT POLITICAL REVIEW

Blic

"WHEN DID THE WORLD GO DOWN THE WRONG PATH?"

During the session of the UN General Assembly, President Aleksandar Vucic said that Serbia would represent its interests and insist on respect for the UN Charter and international law. The text also mentions his bilateral contacts with European and American officials, including Kaja Kallas, Ursula von der Leyen, and Christopher Landau.

Politika

REC Makes Decisions Related to Elections for National Minority Councils

The Republic Electoral Commission adopted the forms for submitting electoral lists and the schedule for direct elections of members of national minority councils, scheduled for November 8, 2026. REC Deputy Chairman Marko Jankovic said that the forms are the same as those used in the 2022 elections.

Euronews

REM Council Elected; Stevica Smederevac Comments; Monitoring of the Election Process

The new president of the REM Council, Stevica Smederevac, said that the regulator should begin full-scale media monitoring during the election process as soon as possible. He announced consideration of expanding the monitoring scope and recording possible irregularities, while the Council currently operates with eight of the planned nine members.

Politika

Two Decades of Successful Cooperation Between Serbia and Ohio

Cooperation between Serbia and the U.S. state of Ohio officially began in 2006 with the establishment of the State Partnership Program for Peace, and over two decades it expanded from military to civilian programs as well. The Ohio National Guard regularly cooperates with Serbian institutions, and its representatives participate in commemorations of the allied Halyard mission in Pranjani, during which around 500 airmen and civilians were rescued. Relations between Serbia and the United States were further advanced with the launch of the Strategic Dialogue in July this year, focused on the economy, energy security, technology, science, and regional issues.

Politika

OSCE an Important Security Platform for Dialogue

Marko Djuric met in New York, during the session of the UN General Assembly, with OSCE Secretary General Feridun Sinirlioglu and stressed that Serbia considers the OSCE an important security platform for dialogue and remains committed to cooperation with ODIHR and other independent institutions of the organization. He also spoke with the foreign ministers of Cyprus, Saint Lucia, and Ghana about bilateral relations and regional and international issues.