Global Diesel Shortage Could Worsen

The global market is facing a diesel shortage due to disruptions in the Middle East, reduced Russian production and possible restrictions on U.S. exports. Serbia is additionally exposed because of the NIS issue and low water levels on the Danube, while the Government released 5,000 tonnes of diesel from mandatory reserves ahead of expected October consumption of around 205,000 tonnes.

AN END TO ILLEGAL DUMPS

The EBRD has launched an international tender for the design and construction of waste transfer stations in five municipalities in Bačka and the Zlatibor District. The project is intended to reduce transport costs and emissions, improve recycling, and enable the closure of unsanitary and illegal dumps within the regional systems of Sombor and Nova Varoš.
