

DATUM

September 29, 2026

NINAMEDIA CLIPPING

DAILY REPORT

POLITICAL REVIEW

ninamedia

DAILY REPORT POLITICAL REVIEW

Večernje Novosti

PROUD OF THE RESULTS AND HONORABLE WORK FOR SERBIA

Ahead of submitting his resignation as president of Serbia, Aleksandar Vučić reviewed his ten-year term and spoke about the upcoming parliamentary elections, economic results, and foreign policy. He announced that he would join the campaign as a private citizen and outlined his views on the future organization of the government and relations with Russia, Ukraine, the United States, and China.

Blic

WITH PUTIN: GAS AGREEMENT AND DISCUSSIONS ON ALL KEY ISSUES

Aleksandar Vučić and Vladimir Putin spoke by telephone for about an hour about energy cooperation, NIS, bilateral relations, the situation in the region, and the war in Ukraine. Vučić expressed his expectation that the gas arrangement expiring on September 30 would be extended and that a stable supply to Serbia would be secured.

Večernje Novosti

Special aid package for Preševo

Caretaker Minister of Labor, Employment, Veteran and Social Affairs Milica Đurđević Stamenkovski visited Serbian families in the municipality of Preševo. She announced a special package of support measures, prepared with the Diocese of Vranje, focusing on large families and socially vulnerable families, elderly households, people with disabilities, and young people.

Danas

The aim is to intimidate and expel Serbs

Nine people were arrested in northern Kosovo on suspicion of war crimes. The Serbian government's Office for Kosovo and Metohija described the arrests as pressure on the Serbian population and said its representatives were in contact with the families of those detained to arrange legal assistance.

Danas

An action with clear political significance

The article analyzes the decision by Serbia's delegation, led by Aleksandar Vučić, to remain in the United Nations General Assembly hall during the speech by Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu.

Večernje Novosti

Proceedings are discontinued

Miroslav Đorđević, deputy president of the High Prosecutorial Council, explained the legal consequences of the pardons and exemptions from prosecution granted to 49 people by Aleksandar Vučić before his resignation as president. According to his interpretation, an exemption from prosecution discontinues proceedings against a particular person, while a pardon leaves the final judgment on record.

Večernje Novosti

No additional monitoring

Stevica Smederevac, president of the Regulatory Authority for Electronic Media (REM), said the Council had not adopted a decision to expand systematic media monitoring during the election campaign because the required majority had not been reached. The Council had previously considered proposals to extend monitoring to additional media service providers.

DAILY REPORT POLITICAL REVIEW